IDEA

London, Feb. 13.—The Japanese delegation in a statement given this afternoon, declared that Japan would accept a holiday in battleship construction until 1936, to reduce tonnage of battleships to 25,000 tons and to reduce the maximum calibre of guns to 14 inches.

The maximum tonnage of six-inch gun cruisers should be from 7000 to 7500 tons and that of flotilla leaders and destroyers should be equally limited, the statement said.

The age limit of cruisers was suggested at twenty years and that of destroyers at sixteen years.

The statement, which has been eagerly awaited in view of the British and United States announcements of naval arms, said that Japan was ready to agree to the prolongation of the life of battleships from twenty years to twenty-six years.

Japan attaches special importance to cruisers armed with eight-inch guns and wished to maintain a minimum force sufficient for the needs of national defence taking into consideration the forces possessed by other powers.

Japan is convinced, the statement said, that because of the geographical location of her country, the submarine is necessary as a means of defence. At the same time Japan will co-operate with the other powers in strictly regulating the employment of submarines against merchant marine.

Japan proposed to limit its sub-

CONFER WITH FRENCH
DELEGATION

London, Feb. 14.—(A.P.)—(By De Witt MacKenzie, Associated Press Staff Writer.)—Great Britain and the United States combined and got quickly into action this morning to try to persuade France to lower her claim for 724,000 tons of naval craft, a figure which would involve her building 210,000 tons in the next five years.

Early in the forenoon Premier Ramsay MacDonald, United States Secretary of State Stimson, United States Ambassador Morrow, Senator Robinson of the United States delegation, met with Premier Tardieu and ex-Premier Briand at the house of commoners and discussed themselves for a serious conference.

France's figures—issued last evening—brought an unfavorable reaction from every other delegation. Indeed the total created something akin to consternation. The delegates believed they have at least one month of intense worry cut for them in reaching a solution to this vital problem.

It was understood from well-informed sources that it was hoped to persuade France to reduce her total to something like 350,000 tons.

Since Italy demands parity with France there seemed nothing for Dina Grandi, Italian foreign minister, to do but to enter a claim for the same tonnage and not to rock the boat for a time and to see whether France will not recede from her position.

marine tonnage to its present force.

London, Feb. 13.—(A.P.)—Japan has reiterated her demand for a 70 per cent. cruiser ratio with the navies of Great Britain and the United States, but it was not expected today she would adhere so steadfastly to this demand that compromise would not be possible.

One of the most definite technical accomplishments of the conference to date was reached yesterday when the conference committee accepted the report of the sub-committee of experts on combining the British and French plans of category and global tonnage fleet measurement. There still are some differences on minor points which must be submitted to the chief delegates for settlement.

In simple language, however, the experts agreed that Italy and France could transfer tonnage between the categories of small cruisers and destroyers up to one hundred per cent to fit their needs but that America, Great Britain and Japan must agree on totals for each category of ship and stick to them except for a certain small percentage of transfers which has yet to be decided.

South Macleod News

On Tuesday of last week eighty-five neighbors and friends of E. A. Griffiths gave him a real surprise when they visited him at his home. The surprise party was on the occasion of Mr. Griffiths' departure from South Macleod. The evening was spent pleasantly with cards, dancing, games and music. A committee composed of E. Murphy, W. Perrin, Axel Johnson and E. Skelding representing the community, presented Mr. Griffiths with a club bag and address, Mrs. W. Hovis, Sec. of the W. L. I., making the presentation, to which Mr. Griffiths replied suitably. The presentation followed the midnight luncheon served by the ladies of the W. L. I. The happy throng dispersed about 3 p. m. after singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

INAUGURATE AIR MAIL ON PRAIRIE, MARCH 3 — AN-NOUCEMENT MADE AT OT-TAWA BY HON. P. J. VENIOT, POSTMASTER-GENERAL

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Air mail service on the prairies will be inaugurated March 3, Hon. P. J. Veniot, postmaster-general, announced last night. The main line of the service will connect Winnipeg, Regina, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat and Calgary. Another route running between Edmonton, North Battleford and Saskatoon goes into operation on the same date.

The post office department has been working for months in co-operation with the flying officials in the National Defence Department in preparation for the new service. Despite severe weather conditions which make it awkward to lay cables for lighting equipment on landing fields, details are stated to be practically complete.

A mail plane will leave Winnipeg at 9 p. m., according to the tentative schedule, and will reach Calgary at 5 p. m. The eastbound plane will leave Calgary at 1:40 a. m., and will arrive in Winnipeg before noon. Other details of the schedule have yet to be settled.

With the new service in operation, a saving of 24 hours will be effected in the carriage of mail between Winnipeg and the Pacific coast.

Mr. Veniot had no announcement to make as to when the projected service joining Winnipeg with eastern Canada routes might be expected to start.

E. L. GRAY IS NEW COMMIS-SIONER OF FIELD CROPS FOR ALBERTA

Edmonton, Feb. 13.—E. L. Gray, for the past three years district agricultural agent at Hanna, has been appointed commissioner of field crops in succession to W. J. Stephen, who has resigned to take a position with the Commercial Chemical Company. Hon. George Hoodley, minister of agriculture, said in making the announcement that Mr. Gray is particularly well fitted by training and experience for the field crops work, having made a special study of grain and soils for a number of years. He will take office March 1.

As field crops commissioner, Mr. Gray will have direction of the administration of the Noxious Weeds Act, supervision of the seed grain marketing service, and the handling of field crop competitions, local and provincial seed fairs, and junior farmers' grain competitions held in conjunction with the wheat pool.

OBITUARY

DEATH OF JOSEPH GRIFFIN

Joseph Griffin, retired farmer of the Macleod district, who died at the family residence in Macleod, was buried on Friday at the Macleod union cemetery. Funeral services were conducted at the home and the cemetery by the Rev. J. E. Knight of the United Church, and there were a large number of sympathizing friends present from the town and former neighbors from the country.

The deceased was born at the village of Churchill in Somersetshire, England, and had reached the ripe old age of 91 years. He came to Canada with his family 21 years ago and they settled on a farm in the Beaver district where they farmed till a few years ago, when he retired and came into Macleod to reside.

Mr. Griffin is survived by Mrs. Griffin, three daughters and three sons. One daughter is married, Mrs. J. Pedersen, and resides at Swift Current, Sask. Miss Janet and Miss Mollie are at home. Linol, Wilfred and Jack reside in Macleod and district.

Mr. Griffin was a staunch and faithful member of the Methodist church in England and since coming to Macleod he was a most loyal and devoted supporter of the Methodist church here. Most regular in his attendance at the services until failing health and infirmity prevented him from worshipping in his beloved church.

There were many floral tributes sent by sympathizing relatives and friends. The pallbearers were: J. L. Fawcett, A. F. Grady, J. G. Torstevik, S. Heap, J. Roger Hunt and Stanley Parker.

DEATH OF MRS. OLAFSON

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon last for Mrs. Victoria Olafson, who died in Lethbridge on Tuesday, Feb. 11. The service was held at the home of her son-in-law, F. Connelly, on 18th St., and was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Knight of the United Church, Macleod.

Mrs. Olafson came to Canada many years ago from Iceland, where she was born and married. She is survived by two sons in Macleod and one in Iceland, also two daughters, Mrs. Charles Clarke, Lethbridge, and Mrs. F. Connelly, Macleod.

The pallbearers at the funeral were: Thos. Clarke, Chas. Clarke, Sr., P. J. Hornberger, E. Connelly, J. Dodd and O. Derrick.

ANNUAL MEETING MUNICIPAL DISTRICT OF BRIGHT, No. 69

What is considered as the largest annual meeting ever held of the Bright Municipal District No. 69, took place on Saturday afternoon in the town hall, Macleod. About 60 ratepayers from all over the district were present to hear the reports and discuss the affairs of the district.

Pat Doyle, the returning officer, was in the chair. Reeve J. H. Evans explained a number of items in the various reports, and a lively discussion took place on the condition of some of the roads and specially on the grading that ought to be done on some of the side roads. Another item which caused a good deal of discussion and cross questioning was the amount still owing by the farmers of the district for seed grain and feed rations, which shows a total at Dec. 31, 1929, of $179,006.76. Only $17,819.60 had been paid on that account during the year, and the balance owing for seed grain and feed rations, which shows a large amount of $11,196.54 uncollected on Dec. 31. However, the year's business shows several favorable features, the municipal taxes collected amounted to $16,732.77, an increase of over $1,500 in 1928. Over $2,000 more was levied in labor, that is on roads, during the year than was spent in 1928. The balance of assets over liabilities is shown as $24,162.66, an increase of $1,254 over 1928.

The councillors for division Nos. 1, 2 and 3 retire this year, and when nominations were called for, two of the retiring councillors were returned by acclamation. Reeve J. H. Evans for division No. 3, was nominated by Wm. Heath and John A. Edgar. Harry Beater, for division No. 1, was nominated by John Foss and David Wilson. Both of these were re-elected by acclamation. Thos. J. Barber, the retiring councillor for division No. 2, was nominated by Thos. Kearns, Andy Hutton, J. Murphy, C. G. Johnson, Wm. Scott and H. G. Long. A. M. Hogg was also nominated for No. 2 division, by Geo. Robertson, A. C. Bodgener, E. L. Bodgener, R. H. Worthington and J. W. Hetherington. This necessitated an election in division No. 2, which will take place on Saturday, Feb. 22. It is expected from all reports that the contest will be close, as the supporters of both candidates are pretty equally divided, both being well-known, prosperous farmers in the division.

"ON TRIAL" BRINGS FAME AND

RICHES TO AUTHOR — "ON

TRIAL" WARNER BROS' LATEST

MURDER MYSTERY SPECIAL—WITH PAULINE

FREDERICK—COMING TO EMPRESS

THEATRE THURSDAY — FRI-

DAY — SATURDAY

With his brilliant presentation, the Warner Bros. latest special, "On Trial," brings one of the outstanding achievements of the world's greatest dramatic art.

In 1914, when it was produced by George M. Cohan and Sam Harris at the Liberty Theatre in New York, it created nothing short of a revolution in dramatic presentation, violating as it did all the accepted dogmas of dramatic art.

Elmer Rice, its author, was a clerk in a law office. Rice got his angles for the sensational murder trial mystery from his experience in the law office. Almost every producer on Broadway turned it down before Rice got his manuscript to Sam Forrest, the Cohan and Harris stage manager.

It was a forlorn hope, as Forrest was just about to go on his vacation after a strenuous season, but after reading "On Trial," he offered to forego the trip if the producer would allow him to stage it. Quickly authorizing a cast headed by Mary Ryan, his wife, also the sister of Mitchell Lewis, the screen actor, and including Fred Perry, Fred Truesdale, Hans Roberts, Thomas Finley and Lawrence Edmund, he whipped it into shape in two weeks without changing so much as a line.

In the latter part of August, "On Trial" was presented in Stamford, Conn. Every prominent producer in New York was there to see how the novel experiment would work. Many tried to "buy into it," after seeing the first act, one offering $50,000 for a quarter interest.

The play was immediately moved to the Liberty Theatre and played to packed houses for a record run of forty-six weeks.

"NOT SO DUMB" A SCINTILLATING COMEDY — MARION DAVIES BRINGS DOWN THE HOUSE IN KING VIDOR LAUGH-GETTER

They'll be packing them into the Empress Theatre Monday and Tuesday and for good reason. Miss Marion Davies is headlining in as screamingly funny a screen farce as has hit these parts in some time.

"Not So Dumb" is the name of the all-talking comedy and it has the attributes of being adapted from "Dulcy," one of New York's biggest stage hits from the pen of George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, and of being directed by the foremost megaphone-wielder in Hollywood today, Andy, King Vidor.

And, as though this were not enough to insure a sure-fire hit, Miss Davies is supported cast containing Elliott Nugent, Raymond Hackett, Julia Faye, Sally Starr, George Davis, Franklin Pangborn, William Holden, Donald Ogden Stewart and Ruby Lafayette.

WHEAT EXPORT FROM CANADA

3 MILLION WEEK — ONLY

ABOUT HALF AS MUCH AS

NEEDED TO CLEAN UP

STOCKS ON HAND

Winnipeg, Feb. 15.—(C.P.)—Low wheat trade, with a minimum of export business, and price recessions ranging from half a cent to one cent and one-half per bushel as compared with a week ago, were noted in the Winnipeg wheat futures review for the week ending Friday, February 14. May and July wheat showed the greatest declines.

A week previous, May closed at $1.29 1/2 per bushel, compared to $1.24 1/2 at the going yesterday—a recession of 1 1/2 cents. July's drop was slightly larger, from $1.28 1/2 at the close of Friday last week to a final mark of $1.25 1/2 yesterday, a slide of 1 1/2 cents. October, quoted yesterday at the close at $1.26 to $1.26 1/2, had fallen only 1/4 to 1/2 cent from the close a week before at $1.26 1/2.

While foreign buying continued limited, there was no disposition on the part of traders to force either the long or short side of the market. There were indications that traders considered values sufficiently lower, and larger scale export trade a possibility of the near future.

Overseas news of the week contained few surprises. There was little improvement in the demand from the continent, while reports from Liverpool showed elevator stocks of wheat to be still quite plentiful. It is noted, however, that European wheat crops were higher than first reported, and another important factor is that rye, potatoes and feed grains are plentiful and have, to a large extent, curtailed the use of wheat in many continental countries.

The statistical position in Canada and the United States did not change much during the week. Shipments to overseas again were disappointing, but the Australian and Argentine movement was no larger than anticipated. There are indications that movement from Australia will not be as hectic as a year ago.

The Argentine shipments have been running 3,000,000 bushels weekly compared with an average of more than 4,000,000 at this time last year.

Shipments from Canada are running little better than 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 bushels weekly which, in the light of our present supplies, is not nearly enough if the carryover at the end of July is to be reduced to a figure that will not be burdensome when the new 1930 crops are coming on the market. If, however, the long-looked-for demand develops and Canada can get rid of between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 bushels weekly, the carryover at the end of the current season will be only half of what it was on Aug. 1, 1929, and smaller even than the 1928 carryover.

LEGISLATURE ACTIVITIES

DURING LAST WEEK — AN INTERESTING RESUME OF

PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENTARY

PROCEEDINGS

The Legislature in the second week of the session is getting down to hard work and evening sittings are announced for next week. Two main subjects have occupied the members during the last five days: on Monday the Premier moved the second reading of the Natural Resources Bill in a speech of one and a half hours' duration; and on Tuesday the Provincial Treasurer, the Hon. R. G. Reid brought down his ninth annual budget.

The Premier dealt fully with the whole matter of the transfer of the natural resources to the province. The actual transfer will require an immense amount of clerical work but since the Manitoba government expects its resources in time for the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the province this July, Mr. Brownlee gave a sketch of the whole history of the negotiations which began practically with the establishment of the province in 1905. In 1913 and again in 1925 settlement seemed near but failed over the question of subsidy. The present agreement provides for the payment of annual subsidies increasing to $1,125,000 in perpetuity, and for consideration of additional claims for lands given to railways. The agreement involves the transfer of approximately 100,000,000 acres of land, including forest reserves, coal lands, tar sands, and petroleum rights. Of the total 87,899,000 acres of surveyed land in the province, 15,000,000 have not yet been located. Of the remaining 73,892,000 acres unsurveyed much is valuable for farm land as well as for other purposes. The transfer involves handing over approximately $10,000,000 in school lands and there are no strings attached. The National Parks, less 1,000 sq. miles, remain under federal control as do the Indian Reservations. This is the best arrangement for the province as the Dominion Government is spending large sums on these playgrounds thus attracting great numbers of tourists to the province. The debate on the bill will probably begin on February 17.

In his budget speech the Provincial Treasurer estimated that with no new taxes and no reductions the fiscal year ending March 31, 1931 will show a surplus of $75,741 as compared with an actual surplus of $1,817,871 for the year ending March 31, 1929. No figures are given for the present year ending March 31, 1930 but a small surplus was budgeted last session. Without increasing taxes it is expected the revenue will increase by $1,842,603 to make a total of $1,918,344, cover a total expenditure of $17,061,336, an increase of $3,275,076. The extra money will be spent for general expansion: Old Age Pensions will require twice as much, and more to be spent on highways and public works. Large borrowings will have to be made during the year: $1,975,000 for telephone; $5,000,000 for public works; while $4,000,000 will be required to retire maturing loans. The gross debt—debt now stands at $9,512,343 but there is a sinking fund of $4,351,102 and $33,500,000 of the debt is self-sustaining.

A total of $5,250,000 will be spent on roads in 1930. Of this sum $2,000,000 will be spent on construction of main highways and $900,000 on their upkeep. Construction and maintenance of district highways, secondary highways, bridges and ferries will absorb the remainder.

The Liberals and the Conservatives attack the budget because taxes are not to be reduced. The Liberal members since they demand increased expenditure for social service feel that they cannot consistently ask for tax cuts. For that reason Labour lined up with the government to defeat the motion of G. H. Webster, Liberal (Calgary) for abolition or reduction of the Supplementary Revenue Tax, by 46-9.

The Liberals demanded further that a monthly statement of the financial position of the government should be published in the Alberta Gazette. The Premier had already opposed the request because the revenues are seasonal: one month might show a large deficit and another a large surplus. Besides, a short statement would be of little value and anyway nobody reads the Alberta Gazette. Mr. Brownlee asked the members how many read the Gazette regularly and only Messrs. Shaw and Webster admitted it. Mr. Dugan's amendment asking a statement covering the period from March 31 to Dec. 31 each year was favourably received by the government. On Thursday Mr. Shaw (Bow Valley) tried another line of attack when he advocated a reduction in automobile license fees. His resolution was defeated 42-5.

During the debate the Premier spoke of the difficulty of giving more service, spending more money, and reducing taxation all at once. He stated that liquor revenues had fallen 50% but that he expected between $150,000 and $200,000 from the natural resources the first year. Many columns would be required to give an account of the many thoughtful speeches delivered during the week. The Member for Macleod (W. H. Shield) advocated a different system of water rates on the Lethbridge Northern since all land is not of equal value. He spoke in favor of retaining the Supp. Rev. Tax and asked for the removal of the 40-minute speech limit.

WEBSTER DECLINES — WILL NOT ACCEPT PROFFERED
LIBERAL LEADERSHIP IN AL-BERTA

Edmonton, Feb. 15.—Whoever takes over the provincial leadership of the Liberal party, it will definitely not be George Webster, the Liberal member for Calgary.

At an informal meeting held on Thursday, at which provincial members discussed the matter with members of the provincial executive, the leadership was offered to Mr. Webster, subject, of course, to confirmation by a forthcoming convention.

Mr. Webster, however, definitely declined the honor, so the field remains open.

This throws speculation as to the leadership into two channels — the remaining members within the legislature, and possible new material not in the house.

Of the Liberal members in the house, one must take a choice now between Messrs. Prevey, Giroux, Boudreau, Frame and Lang, and it is not considered likely that any of these gentlemen will be candidates, with the possible exception of Mr. Giroux, the Liberal member for Grouard.

The activities of W. R. Howson, well-known Edmonton lawyer, who has been a strong party worker for some years, point him out as a possibility for the leadership. He was mentioned in 1926 as a strong candidate for the leadership at the time that this honor went to Capt. Shaw, the retiring leader, but withdrew in favor of W. T. Henry, who, however, never succeeded to the honor, as he was defeated in the 1926 general election.

The situation is one of extreme interest and its progress is being watched by all parties in the house.

almost unanimous choice of the school children some years ago.

A bill to permit the hawking without a license of goods produced in Alberta will be of interest to municipal authorities.

G. A. Forster (Hand Hills) attacked the Farm Loan Board for blacklisting certain areas of the province. He alleged that farmers in the dry areas receive no consideration from the Board.

A rumour from Toronto that a federal election will be held on June 30 has somewhat complicated the election probabilities. The disadvantages of having two elections in one month is obvious. Mr. Brownlee keeps his own counsel; when questioned about an election date in the House he replied: "It may not be so very long before the government may have something to say as to that." The statement hardly commits the Premier to an election this year.

In the meantime the Liberal leadership is a matter for conjecture. Mr. Webster will not accept apparently and the supporters of W. R. Howson, prominent Edmonton Liberal, grow more assured.

ALBERTA MOUTH HEALTH

CAMPAIGN

An educational campaign to teach better habits of living, more reasonable diet, better care of the teeth, and more thorough mouth hygiene and mechanical cleansing, is to be carried on for the next sixty days in Alberta. This great Health Campaign, possibly the greatest co-operative health measure which has ever been undertaken in Canada, will give every man, woman and child in the Province the opportunity of learning these very essential facts about the care of the teeth.

It is the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council, a national organization, which is undertaking the campaign in Alberta, and it has received the most spontaneous assistance from the Departments of Health and Education. Every dentist in Alberta who is a member of the Association will put in two days of his time without charge in connection with the campaign.

Preventive dentistry is the gospel which these men and women will carry throughout the country. The boys and girls of to-day are the men and women of to-morrow, and they will be healthier, happier, more efficient to carry on if they have learned early in their lives the proper method of care of their teeth, gums and mouth.

A sleeping tablet is something you need when you go to bed thinking you won't be able to sleep unless you take one.

THE SCHOOLMARM

(By Walt Mason)

The teacher in the country school, expounding lesson, sum and rule, and teaching children how to rise to heights where lasting honor lies, deserves a fat and handsome wage, for she's a triumph of her age.

No better work than hers is done beneath the good old shining sun; she builds the future of the state; she guides the youths who will be great; she gives the childish spirit wings, and points the way to noble things.

And we, who do all things so well, and of our "institutions" yell, reward the teacher with a roll that brings a shudder to her soul. We have our coin done up in crates, and gladly hand it to the scates who fuss around in politics and fool us with their time-worn tricks.

In Blankville one common joy will loaf a week, and draw more pay than some tired teacher, toiling near, will ever see in half a year. If I were running this old land, I'd have a lot of statesmen-cum-politicians, and folks like those, would have to work for bread and clothes; I'd put the lid on scores of snaps, and pour into the teachers' laps the wealth that now away is sinned, for words and wire-jaws and wind.

JOHN PENNEFATHER CALLED BY DEATH—SON OF MAJOR
PENNEFATHER SUCCUMBS
TO PNEUMONIA ATTACK

The death occurred at his residence at the Home Oil camp in Turner Valley on Friday afternoon of John Pennefather, son of Major and Mrs. P. W. Pennefather, Calgary, former residents of Macleod. Major Pennefather was Superintendent of the R. C. M. P. here for a number of years.

A member of the crew at Mayland No. 1, the deceased left work at 1 p. m., Friday, feeling ill. Medical assistance was summoned to his home and at 7 p. m. the case was diagnosed as pneumonia. His condition steadily became worse until 11 p. m., when he appeared to be resting more easily. Less than an hour later, he passed away. Major Pennefather rushed to Turner Valley shortly after midnight on learning of his son's sudden death.

Native of Saskatchewan

Born at Battleford, Sask., 35 years ago, Mr. Pennefather is survived by his wife and a three-year-old son; one sister, Mrs. D. D. Emery, Mexico City; one brother, William, Calgary; and by his father and mother. His mother was in Victoria where she was informed of her son's death. Funeral arrangements will be completed on her return to Calgary.

ANOTHER DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

The question of the length of women's skirts is all up in the air.

Some time ago, Paris announced its august decree that skirts should be lowered to three or four inches below the knee, the autocrats of fashion in that city believing, no doubt, that their mandates would be meekly accepted and obeyed throughout the civilized world.

But a trifling matter of inches in the length of a garment has lifted the skirt question above the mere consideration of material measurements; it has resolved itself into a solemn declaration of a great principle.

Both in Europe and America, freedom-loving women have expressed their determination not to submit to the decision of a small coterie of dictators in Paris whose power and authority has hitherto been undisputed.

The exposure of the knees, retort or angular, and the canons of aesthetic taste have fallen into secondary place in this great international controversy. Women's new freedom asserts itself. A few pounds of tea dumped into Boston harbor signified the beginning of a struggle which changed the political complexion of one-half the American continent.

The addition of a few inches to the length of skirts is now made the occasion for a declaration of independence which marks the downfall of centralized authority in the world of fashion.

Another of the seats of the mighty has been toppled to the ground, and to women alone must credit be given for the victory which is a flat denial of the claims of Parisian designers to a close monopoly of artistic tastes and skill, but the male of the species is dubiously wondering what will be the next stronghold of established custom to be stormed and overthrown by the spirit of this new freedom.

WOMEN INDIVIDUALISTS

Women, says Fannie Hurst, are primarily individualists, but unless they organize they will lose individuality.

That sounds like a contradiction.
And so it is. For it is, as you might say, a generality in terms of Fannie Hurst. That makes it a sort of specific generality, a most alarming hybrid.

Organization is the process of imposing individuality on others.
The guiding spirit furnishes the ideas, the inspiration, the driving force. Others fall in line. Fannie Hurst is an individualist. Therefore, organization, as she interprets it, would be a means of propagating individuality, and hence of preserving it.

But for the other members of such an organization, it would mean a relative submergence of their own initiative qualities in the common cause. To be successful, an organization must compel the passive as well as the active. Hence, to the vast majority who acquiesce in an organization, rather than lead it, the organization complex is the antithesis of individuality.

As for individualistic thinkers, it is rash to generalize about them. It is rash to bracket them with either sex, for each has probably about an even quota.

As we may be thankful for that.
For if the majority of both sexes were individualistic thinkers, and this trait found vent in organization, as Fannie Hurst urges, we would have more leagues and associations than we could ever count, and there would be no end of conflict and militancy and what-have you among them.

And even as it is, we are organized to death.

HOW EATING HABITS HAVE CHANGED

Do you eat the same sort of meals you used to, or the same kind that father and mother used to eat?

If you do, you're unusual.

One of the most interesting changes in the art of living in the past few years has been the alteration in the meal habits of the family.
In the old days a meal wasn't a meal unless it included half a pound of meat, several large potatoes, half a pie, nine cups of coffee and about two pounds of assorted sundries.

At formal banquets it was even worse. They started about 7 p. m. and plodded through nine or ten courses, winding up at 9:30 or thereabouts. If you refused a single course or left a couple of pens on your plate, it was assumed you were going into decline and the butler brought in the smelling salts.

But today we live in a snatch-snack age, when "Gulp-and-Go" is the slogan. Sandwiches, salads and mysterious trifles in half a dozen colors and shapes disappear by the million every day.

And we're not eating so much meat. But more vegetables and fruit.

The human anatomy is a wonderful thing. It seems to welcome whatever is put into it and cheerfully return the needed energy.
If these changing eating habits could be regulated along the lines of health and food mechanics, they could be made to prolong the average life from five to twenty years.

THIS WON'T LAST LONG

Soviet Russia has inaugurated standard dress for men and women.
That is too bad for Soviet Russia.
The men may stand for it. Men in all ages have yearned for uniforms, whether they admitted it or not.
That is why armies have been so easy to recruit.

But the women—that's another question. Ever since Eve designed a palm leaf, variety in raiment has been the spice of life. Even a palm leaf, or a loin cloth, or a single veil, or an apron can be distinctive.

Perhaps the women of Russia are different. Perhaps they are superhuman enough to forswear those instincts of the race. Much more likely they are not.

But aside from that, when all this uniformity of dress, furnishings, houses and food is legally effected, for the sake of industrial efficiency, what are the industries themselves going to produce?

CANADIAN GARDEN SERVICE 1930

We are amazed at the way time flies. Though it seems only a few days since the year was ushered in, it is in reality fully six weeks.
Spring will approach at the same speed, and soon we will be sallying forth with rake and fork, glad to see the last of the ice and frost and eagerly welcoming the first green mist that appears among the willows. But there will be still more satisfaction when the brown earth appears steaming through the last snowdrift if we have planned our gardening activities ahead. With a pencil, a seed catalogue, a bulletin or two and our visions of gardens of last year still lingering in our minds, it is a simple matter to lay out a really master garden for 1930. This can be arranged so that we will have plenty of flowers and vegetables without interfering with our regular work and recreation at all.

The Vegetables

Straight rows are essential in the vegetable garden. It only takes a few minutes' more time to use a string, and there will be a sense of satisfaction during the whole season in admiring our handiwork. Moreover, there is a distinct saving in space where the rows are straight and cultivation is made easier. A full year's supply of vegetables can be easily produced where the garden is fairly large, and this usually applies to all places in the country, the villages or the smaller towns. If there is room enough, full sized rows of from thirty inches to four feet are advisable, so that full advantage can be taken of horse or garden tractor cultivation. Such vegetables as carrots, beets, lettuce, and spin-ach can be grown in the narrower rows, while potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash and corn require from three to four feet. In the larger garden, it will not be necessary to worry about conserving space by alternate rows of quickly maturing stuff such as lettuce and spinach which are taken off before the later sorts require the full room. But this does not mean that tomatoes, for instance, should be allowed to sprawl over the ground. Staking of these plants is always advisable as the fruit matures earlier and is cleaner, and a neater appearance is given to the whole garden. Run the rows north and south so that the sunshine will be evenly distributed.
After the early crops are harvested, and the first of them, like the radish, will be ready in from three weeks to a month, sow a cover crop of clover, rye, oats, or some other quickly growing thing which will cover the ground, keep down weeds, add attractiveness to the garden and also fertilizer when plowed under.

Squash, cucumbers and melons can be grown along a fence or on sloping ground, so that they will get the most sun for ripening and the fruits will remain dry. It is well to set aside the warmest and richest portion of the garden for such things.
Do not be content with just the ordinary run of vegetables, but add two or three new things every year. Add to the length of your season, too, by planting several varieties of those things particularly desired. Successional plantings will also help in this connection. For instance, if we select three varieties of corn and peas, an early sort, a medium one, and a late variety and plant one third of each at intervals of a week or ten days, we will extend the season for these vegetables over a much longer period. Even the vegetable garden can be beautified by a few rows of flowers along the sides or a clump in each corner.

Poppies, cosmos and other bright blooms are suitable. In the vegetable garden, too, should be grown the flowers that are to be used for cutting purposes, particularly those flowers such as Sweet Peas, which are not especially noted for their foliage.

The Flowers

When we come to planning the flower garden, we must adopt a different attitude entirely in regard to the rows. In very few cases is anything but clump planting advisable.
A much better show can be produced where groups of ten plants of one variety are placed together with the smaller sorts, such as nysium, calendulas and similar things at the front, with hollyhocks, dahlias, cos-mos, marigolds and the larger zinnias at the rear. One must guard against clashing colors and also against blind spots. That is, there should be something blooming at all times. In the catalogues, will be found listed the different colors, the heights of the plants, and the season of blooming, so that there will be no trouble in laying out our garden well in advance of planting, and if we take a little time with our pencil and paper we should have continued

How to Judge Scotch Whisky

A more mellow, generous and delightful spirit than "White Horse" is not obtainable. This Real Old Scotch, which is the senior whisky of Scotland, will sustain the dignity of any Club, Mansion or Cottage anywhere. It is distilled and bottled in Scotland and sent to all corners of the globe.

THE OLDEST HOUSE
IN THE WORLD.
Established 1769
EXPERTS test whisky by the nose and the palate. To tell a good whisky by the nose is rather difficult, but most people can rely on their palate, and if you have a sensitive palate you should have no difficulty in detecting the fine qualities of "White Horse".
A bite in whisky does not necessarily signify that it has great alcoholic strength. Cheap and immature whisky has a sharp bite. If whisky is matured for 20 to 30 years the strength is reduced very considerably.

"Marrying" of "White Horse" Scotch Whisky is a blending of malts and grain whisky. For "White Horse" only the choicest makes of Scotch Whisky are selected. They are matured for a long period in sherry wood before blending. After the first blending "White Horse" is allowed to lie in wood for a further period to allow the whisky to become properly "married". It is again put in the blending vats and again allowed to lie in the wood. The general public have very little knowledge of time, expense and care involved in this "marrying" of "White Horse" whisky before it is bottled.

THE BROODING OF EARLY CHICKS

It is generally conceded that the early hatched chicks give the best results in egg production, particularly during the winter months when the eggs are the highest in price.
If one is going to brood early chicks it becomes necessary to arrange for comfortable quarters and artificial heat.

At the Dominion Experimental Station, Kapuskasing, Ontario, results have been kept on the amount of coal required to operate the ordinary No. 18 Buckeye brooder stove. Each stove was in a house 10 by 12 feet in size, which is supposed to furnish sufficient heat and space for around 500 chicks until they are three to four weeks of age, at which time they would require more space for best results. In actual practice, however, it is not always possible to have 500 chicks hatched at one time, as this would require quite a large flock of breeding hens and also considerable incubator space. In fact better results are usually obtained when the number of chicks is kept below the rating of the brooder.

Over a period of three years it was found that on the average it required 13.5 pounds of coal per day to operate each brooder stove during the month of April; 9.8 during the month of May and 9.3 during June.
In giving this coal the value of 1 cent per pound which would be higher than it would actually cost in most localities it may be noted that the cost of coal required to operate one of these stoves is a very small item indeed, even when the number of chicks being brooded is much below the capacity of the brooder.
For example if 300 chicks were brooded during the month of April, the total cost of coal would be $4.05 or $1.35 per 100 chicks.

VALENTINES TO THE SICK

In many homes the evening hours recently have been spent in a busy happy fashion by Junior Red Cross children in the making of Valentines which have been mailed to the little sick patients in the Junior Red Cross Hospitals of Calgary and Edmonton.

The little bright red hearts of the Valentines and the greetings that accompanied them—often quite an artistic performance—sometimes quite original—gladdened the hearts of those who are bedfast in the wards.

The Matron distributed these on Valentines Day and the lonely child who has not many friends, felt a warmth of pleasurable excitement at the thought that another child somewhere in the country had been thinking about him.

By these seasonal offerings of affection, the members of Junior Red Cross can interpret their pledge of "Thinking of others less fortunate than themselves."

Prosperity killed family life.
People were chummy even in hotels when the bedrooms weren't as warm as the office.

In the old days, before bridge prizes came in style, there wasn't any sale for junk after Christmas.

One of the best games of hockey one could wish for was that played by the Granum Trail Rangers against the Macleod Tuxis Boys last Friday evening, at Macleod. Again it took overtime play to declare a victor and Macleod scored the goal of the game to make it 1-0. Every game of the year has seen the Granum Trail Rangers pitted against bigger and heavier fellows, and their stamina has been thus well tested. Yet they have held their own in play with the best, and that the last Macleod game went to the opposition was simply "fortune of war." For Granum showed the better skill in stick-handling and skating, though of course Macleod had some men who starred. Granum started without Harry Anderson, who had been missed by both cars, and Harry arrived in a hurry for the second period to play his customary good game. Every Granum fellow from goal to played a bang-up game, and provided great hockey to watch, with Gordon Russell displaying checking and shooting that was great. Another fine player who missed the cars was Edwin Herman and we missed his beautiful stickhandling. Granum lined up as follows, Goal—C. Field, Defense—Art, Rompain, Anderson, Centre—W. Field, Wings—Cochlin, and Russell.

MAYOR BARROWMAN SPECIAL SPEAKER AT GRANUM LUNCHEON—IN BOARD OF TRADE ADDRESS DEALS WITH ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT—GREENWAY ALSO SPEAKS

The Granum Board of Trade held a luncheon in Reynolds' hall on Feb. 14, at 1 o'clock, D. M. Leyden, president, in the chair. The attendance was fairly representative of town and country, but not as large as the occasion warranted.

The president before introducing the speakers, Messrs. Barrowman and Greenway of Lethbridge, stated the object of the gathering which was to foster a spirit of mutual understanding and co-operation between town and country and to support the Board of Trade an organization which deals with problems common to both. Following D. M. Leyden was R. W. Greenway, who spoke of the work done in Lethbridge and what organization had achieved there. The guest of the day was Mayor Barrowman, who covered a wide ground of business interests, their development during the past twenty years and their possibilities in the future.

The mayor dealt at some length with that basic industry the raising of wheat and explained the effect of the '28 and '29 yields on the present situation. He also traced the effects of modern machinery and auto transportation on business in general pointing out the much larger purchasing radius which had been created for the dwellers in small towns through the advent of good roads and motors. He touched on the problem of unemployment resulting from the introduction of combines, but was of the opinion that that would largely be taken care of by the lumbering, coal and oil industries. Five thousand men are now working in the oil fields.

Getting Big Capacity and Good Planting with Two John Deere-Van Brunt Low-Down Press Drills

Seed, Soil and Moisture Utilized for Greatest Profit

Here's the drill that helps to make planting conditions right for this region.

The John Deere-Van Brunt Low-Down Press Drill has been skillfully designed to plant the seed accurately, prevent soil from blowing, and to conserve moisture.

After planting the seed at unvarying depth it packs the earth firmly over the seed—an essential requirement in this section where the soil is loose and the climate dry. A press wheel follows each disk to do this job right. Wind cannot blow away the seed, moisture is conserved, and rapid germination follows.

This is the drill with the famous Van Brunt Adjustable Gate Force Feed, metal tubes and closed disk boot delivery, large capacity grain hopper

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION — APPENDICITIS IN CHILDREN

It is generally known that appendicitis is a comparatively common disease. It is not so generally known, however, that appendicitis is responsible for between 1,500 and 1,400 deaths each year in Canada. Particularly it is not known that it is a condition occurring among children. During one year, of the 1,521 deaths due to this cause, 470 were those of children under fifteen years of age.

We have secured recently from the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, some information regarding appendicitis, containing statements which are of great public importance. The experience of this institution shows that appendicitis is a common ailment of children at all ages. When the condition is recognized early and is properly treated, the results are most satisfactory. If, however, there is delay in securing proper treatment, and the condition is allowed to progress until the appendix ruptures, the not infrequent result is the death of the child despite all efforts to save him. The condition calls for a repetition of what we have so often stated—early proper treatment is necessary if the patient is to be given a fair chance for recovery through the benefit of medical science. The physician cannot help those who do not come for his advice. The cause of delay in securing treatment generally rests with the parents who are unaware of the dangers that may accompany severe abdominal pain. The "pain in the stomach" is thought but little of, and the child is frequently given a dose of castor oil or some other purgative which sets the digestive tract in motion just at the time when nature wishes it to be at rest.

When appendicitis occurs there is pain. Older children say it is cramp-like and usually point it out as being in the region of the umbilicus. Younger children just point to the abdomen when asked where the pain is, and cry as if in pain. Usually there is nausea and vomiting. There is only one sensible thing to be done for the child with abdominal pain, and that is to call the doctor and refrain from giving any household remedies. This may seem a needless amount of fuss and bother, and we are not suggesting that every stomach-ache is appendicitis, but we do say that unless abdominal pain is always regarded seriously, cases of appendicitis will be neglected and children will continue to be sacrificed to procrastination.

Questions concerning Health addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

WHY NOT U. S. HONEY?

During the past several weeks, Alberta weekly newspapers have been approached by the Alberta Development Board for their support in a campaign designed to influence consumers in favor of "Made in Alberta" products. The campaign is a worthy one, and the Alberta Development Board is a live organization. But, we would call that organization's attention to the inconsistency displayed by one of Alberta's leading producers.

While at breakfast this morning, we reached for the honey jar. It was a very attractive container and we confess a liking for honey—good honey; the kind that is produced in steps across the international border Alberta by the Riedell people. And that little glass jar of honey was purchased in preference to other brands, because it was produced in Alberta.

But, imagine one's chagrin when a glance at the label disclosed the fact that it was "Printed in U. S. A." There are a hundred printing plants in Alberta which might have produced that label and improved upon its design, but the producer who is catering to the Alberta consumer ignores the international border and buys a foreign label to advertise his product, which he hopes to sell in the home market.

Straws point which way the wind blows and this little incident is but a sample of the inconsistency of many Canadian manufacturers when it comes to purchasing labels, wrappers and containers. And now, can we be criticized if we are converted to the use of United States honey?—Hanna Herald.

And among the things that bring reproach on a noble cause is leaky baggage.

SEED POTATOES

Good seed potatoes may be hard to get when planting time comes. We have in stock now a few tons of Netted Gem seed potatoes, which are exceptionally good buying at $3.75 per sack, and our suggestion is that you put away your seed requirements now from this stock, and you will have this problem off your mind, and the very best seed available will be yours.

We should appreciate an estimate of your requirements in clover seed for this season's operations. We hope to be able to meet the demand this year in both White and Yellow Blossom Sweet Clover Seed with locally grown seed, cleaned and scarified in our own plant, thus avoiding the possibility of introducing new kinds of weed seeds into this district. There is always this danger with seed brought in from Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Feeders Agree That Grain Must Be Ground For Feed

Two Feeders were discussing their feeding methods recently when one broke in with, "Oh yes! Of course I grind the grain." And the other replied in a matter-of-fact tone, "Yes, I know, so do I." No disagreement on that score.

No matter how their methods varied in the matter of roughages and quantities, these successful feeders were fully agreed that grain must be ground. Neither would even think of wasting grain by feeding it whole. Both have learned through experience that the difference in digestibility between whole and ground grain may easily spell the difference between profit and loss on a year's feeding.

Save 12% to 26% On Your Grain Bill

Actual tests with whole grain, fed to healthy, full-toothed animals, show an average loss of from 12% to 26%. In other words, out of every 100 bushels of whole corn fed, 26 bushels yield practically no nourishment. The unground oat diet shows a loss of 12 bushels out of every 100.

Even though you feed only a few animals, such feeding losses cannot be overlooked. A few minutes, now and then, with a McCormick-Deering Feed Grinder will turn the whole grain into nourishing, easily digestible feed at low cost. We can show you the McCormick-Deering Grinder that meets your special requirements. Our store is also headquarters for McCormick-Deering Engines and Tractors.

Modern equipment for the modern farmer.
